

Summer is a great opportunity for your student to continue reading. It is also a time to make sure your student does not lose all the literacy skills acquired during the previous year. Over the summer, in order to prevent that from happening, we have decided to require all:

- Incoming 5th Graders to read the book A Week in the Woods by Andrew Clements.
- Incoming 6th Graders to read the book Left Out by Tim Green.

All students should be prepared to participate in activities and group discussions about the book, as well as take an AR test on the book when school begins. We hope that all of you have a wonderful summer!
